

School of Law

Policy on recording of lectures, seminars and tutorials

Recordings of lectures may be made for personal use only. There can be no wider dissemination of such recordings via the internet. No photographs or video recordings are allowed.

Audio recordings of seminars and tutorials may be made for personal use only. There can be no wider dissemination of such recordings via the internet. No photographs or video recordings are allowed.

If any students object to being recorded they should contact the tutor or seminar leader. Other methods of recording, e.g. by scribe, would then be investigated and implemented, where appropriate.